DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

The specification needs to be carefully reviewed and revised to comply with the preferred arrangement (note that the headings are missing).

Claim Objections

Claim 7 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim must refer specifically to the dependent claims in the alternative only. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claim 7 has not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tinnerman and Moran et al.

Both Tinnerman and Moran et al disclose a snap-in nut structure that includes metal arms with opposed latching recesses (that engage the edge of a panel opening), a spring bottom with a hole that receives a screw and a supporting part that maintains the spring bottom portion of the structure a distance from the component being attached. In Moran et al the supporting part is best shown in Figure 3 and includes elements 48 and 53, and in Tinnerman the supporting part is shown in Figures 1 and 2 and includes the inward extensions 20 from the spring bottom portion of the structure.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bedford, Jr. and Parkin et al '817.

Both Bedford, Jr. and Parkin et al disclose a snap-in nut structure that includes metal arms with opposed latching recesses (in Parkin see elements 3a, 4a, 5 and 6 and in Bedford, Jr. see elements 12 and 13), a bottom (that is inherently springy) with a hole that receives a screw and a supporting part (in Parkin see element 7 and in Bedford see element 9) that maintains the spring bottom portion of the structure a distance from the component being attached.

Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mitchell '836 and Pierce.

Both Mitchell '836 and Pierce disclose snap-in nut structures with the basic structure as outlined above (arms, latching recesses, a spring bottom and a supporting part). In both Mitchell and Pierce, the supporting part is in the form of a tubular rail or member drawn out of the material of the spring bottom of the nut (in Mitchell see element 2 and in Pierce see element 9).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3677

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references to Hall et al, Murphy, Mitchell '167 and Burke disclose related fastener devices and are cited to further show the state of the art.
